2022 OPEN CALL FOR RESIDENTS!

DEADLINE OPEN CALL: 23RD OF NOVEMBER 2021
INFORMATION EVENING ON 11TH OF NOVEMBER 2021 @ROODKAPJE

Hamburger Community of Live 2022

Roodkapje invites pioneers for its Hamburger Community of LIVE (HCL). In 2022 we're looking for three people for a nine-month programmer-in-residence programme at Roodkapje, a multidisciplinary platform for presentation, talent support and development.

In 2022, the Hamburger Community of Live offers a place for three programmers that together will shape a series of live events throughout the year, stimulating them to break down disciplinary segregation and to mix communities and audience groups. The residency period at the Hamburger Community of Live functions as a laboratory; a test site that offers residents the opportunity to experiment with public events through organising get-togethers, workshops, and other discursive events, but also through multidisciplinary events such as concerts, club nights, performances, festivals and dinners. The HCL is responsible for a large part of the public event program at Roodkapje, other events will be organised by a.o. recordlabels, (queer) collectives and former alumni. These event-programmers will share their experiences and skills as part of the internal development program of the HCL. All these different voices will offer new skills, perspectives and art-forms to Roodkapjes public programming.

For more information and a more detailed description of the Hamburger Community of Live and its trajectory, please read the appendix with this Open Call.
